IACP Conference Update

LogIn, Inc., producer of IACP Net, is proud to be a sponsor for the 116th Annual IACP Conference, held in Denver, CO. Please stop by booth #3312 in the exhibit hall October 4-6 and visit with IACP Net representatives, get your questions answered, and pick up a free 2010 desktop calendar. We look forward to seeing you there!

Labor Day Holiday Hours

IACP Net offices will be closed on Monday, September 7, for Labor Day. We wish you a safe and happy holiday.

IACP Net Alert highlights some recent additions to the online information resource for the business side of policing, www.iacpnet.com.

If your e-mail is not set to view HTML, you will not see IACP Net Alert properly. Click here to view it online, or contact us at iacpservice@login-inc.com or call 800.227.9640. Because IACP Net is a secured website, links are not available to the following information, but we have a direct link to the sign-in page at the end of this newsletter.

DATABASES

Preparing America for the Next Disaster

As America reeled after the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks, planners at all levels of government immediately went to work not only to ensure that we'd never be attacked again, but that if we did, we'd be prepared. These days, unfortunately, some people seem to be getting complacent. The full text of this article is located in the Core Database under document #606973.

Policing in New Immigrant Communities

The common challenges that law enforcement agencies face when working with immigrant communities include language barriers, fear of police, and cultural differences, among others. To address these challenges and discuss promising practices for cultivating, maintaining, and restoring partnerships to keep communities safe, the COPS Office, in partnership with the Vera Institute of Justice, sponsored a focus group comprising leading law enforcement leaders, experts, and community leaders from five jurisdictions in the United States. The full text of this article is located in the Core Database under document #606963.

Is Your Agency Featured in Links?

The Links section allows you to easily find links to select law enforcement websites, and maximize your time spent searching the Internet. If your agency would like to be listed, visit the Links section under Networking and complete the Suggest a Site form.

CURRENT AFFAIRS

Computer Aided Dispatch and Records Management Systems Executive Training Workshop

Computer Aided Dispatch and Records Management Systems are powerful tools that can help police departments enhance public safety, operate more efficiently, and more effectively share information with other public safety agencies. This free course will provide you with an overview of the core functions contained within modern CAD and RMS technologies to help you determine how your agency can maximize the benefits of a major technology acquisition. To locate this free training opportunity, search keyword "executive training" in the Funding section, located in Current Affairs.
